EXPECT 4,000,000 MEN IN FRANCE BY NEXT JUNE

War Program Calls for 80 Divisions and 18 Training at Home.

NEW DRAFT AGE SELECTS WILL BE SENT OVERSEAS

Wilson Says Must Force Issue and Win on the Western Front.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 15.—In reporting the administration man power bill extending draft ages today Chairman Chamberlain disclosed to the senate that General March had told the military committee it was up to the United States to put enough men in France to win the war on the west front and had expressed the belief that 4,000,000 Americans under one command could go through the German lines whenever they pleased.

The report also revealed that the new American war program calls for 80 divisions, or something over 2,000,000 men in France by June 30, next year, with 18 more divisions in training at home then.

All of the men called for active service under the proposed new draft ages—18 to 45—General March told the committee would be in France by next June, according to the program.

Secretary Baker informed the committee, the report said that the president's policy called for concentration of American forces on the western front, including Italy and that the theory of the fighting in the future is that we must force the issue and win on the western front.

Immediate extension of the draft ages was declared by the army representatives to be imperative in order that the United States may throw its full strength in the struggle and win.

If the draft ages are fixed at from 18 to 45, General March said the system of volunteer enlistment in the United States army automatically disappears.

In his report Chairman Chamberlain quoted extensively from testimony before the committee by Secretary Baker, General March and Ernest Marshall General Crowder.

"The United States government," General March is quoted as saying, "has been asked by her allies to embark upon a program so large that it was necessary very carefully to ascertain whether we could go through with it or not and one of the features of this enlarged program was providing men. The desire of the administration is to establish limits, both maximum and minimum which will accomplish this program and at the same time disorganize the industries of the country as little as possible."

"The policy of the war department is to put the maximum number of men in France with the idea of shortening the war. We found from figures furnished by the provost marshal general that we could embark on a program of 80 divisions in France by June 30, 1919, with 18 divisions at home. These divisions, consist roughly of 49,000 men to a division. After protracted study of the available man power of the United States the provost marshal general showed that it was necessary to drop to 19 years of age and go to 45 in order to get the men to carry it through. All the men obtained under the proposed change in the draft law—approximately 2,300,000—we expect to have in France by June 30, 1919."

General March told the committee that he was unqualifiedly in favor of having the army composed of as many young men as possible. Young men between 18 and 20, he said, not only do not have many encumbrances but they are better fit physically.

"The president," said General March, resuming his statement, "has finally announced that the American military policy from this time on is centered on the western front and we have declined to be diverted from that one thing. The war department is determined to win."

AMERICAN NURSE, ILL FROM HARD WORK IN WAR HOSPITAL, IS GIVEN FLOWERS BY BRITISH SOLDIERS SHE ATTENDED

was taken ill from hard work caring for the war victims. Soldiers for whom she cared are giving her flowers and doing their best to cheer her and show their appreciation for her kindness while they were hovering between life and death.

FORMER GOVERNOR FRANK B. WILLIS WILL PROBABLY HAVE PLURALITY OVER JONES OF 50,000 AFTER ALL OF THE RETURNS ARE IN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Aug. 15.—Additional returns on candidates for legislature from over the state today encouraged anti-saloon league leaders to believe that the upper house of the next general assembly will ratify the national prohibition amendment.

Dry leaders claim that the house will be overwhelmingly dry.

The makeup of the senate, however, is still somewhat in doubt. Available figures show that the drys may have a slight majority. One dry nominee for state senator, however, is said to be with the army in France. Should he be elected, the senate would be almost evenly divided on the wet and dry question.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Aug. 15.—The race between James E. Robinson of Marysville and Reynolds R. Kinkade of Toledo, for nomination for one of the republican supreme court judgeships is the only primary election contest which apparently remains in doubt today. In forty counties reporting to the secretary of state, Robinson is leading Kinkadee by less than 2,000 but Lucas county is not included in the returns. Then Kinkadee probably will lead Robinson by more than 4,000. The eastern section of the state where many counties are still out is giving Robinson pluralities, however, which statisticians in the secretary of state's office believe will overcome Lucas county's plurality for Kinkadee.

Former Governor Frank B. Willis' plurality over Edwin Jones of Jackson for the republican gubernatorial nomination is expected to be close to 50,000. In 48 counties reporting on governor including Hamilton which gave Jones a plurality of more than 16,000, Willis is leading Jones by 22,325. There are forty counties still to report and all are expected to give Willis large pluralities.

SIBERIAN SLOVAKS SUFFER REVERSES; IN GREAT DANGER

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 15.—The Czechoslovaks in Siberia are in a dangerous position and are liable to be cut off altogether, says the correspondent of the Times at Vladivostok. Only a fraction of those between the Volga and Lake Baikal are armed and all are deficient in every sort of equipment. They are cut off from the Far East and it is impossible to earn what is happening to them. The correspondent says there is much apprehension concerning them.

"The Czechs here are pathetically anxious to push west and assist their brothers. They are contemplating desperate measures in order to reach them but their force is ridiculously small compared to their opponents while they lack most auxiliary equipment and are deficient even in the essentials."

"If it is the allied intention to hold the rear while the Czechs do the fighting General Dietrich's small force might well be annihilated, but it is inconceivable that the allies will refrain from active co-operation and that co-operation must be on a larger scale than hitherto contemplated."

In an editorial the Times emphasizes the urgency of hastening allied action. It says that the Czechs have been driven back from the Usuri front and also have suffered reverses in eastern Russia. It is imperative the Times declares to send help to western Siberia through Harbin, whence, it says, Lake Baikal ought to be reached in moderate strength within a reasonable time.

SUB VICTIMS ADRIFT IN DORY 72 HOURS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Boston, Aug. 15.—Four survivors of the fishing schooner Progress, sunk by a German submarine, Saturday, were brought here today after being adrift in a dory 72 hours without a compass and with little water and food. Others of the crew were landed earlier in the week.

SOVIET TROOPS ARE EVACUATING RUSSIAN CAPITAL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Amsterdam, Aug. 15.—(British Wireless Press)—Soviet troops have begun to evacuate Moscow. The gold reserves which had been in the basement of the Kremlin already have been removed to an unknown place.

Dispatches received in London on Monday reporting that Premier Lenin and War Minister Trotsky had fled to the naval base at Kronstadt, added that all the government departments also would be removed there. The light of Lenin and Trotsky was said to be due to threats by the Social Revolutionists of the Left that they were about to begin a reign of terror there. Whether the Soviet troops were forced to depart from Moscow is not clear but the loss of the city to the Soviet government undoubtedly will be a serious blow to their cause.

Moscow, the ancient capital of Russia, was made the Soviet capital in March. The Lenin government fled there from Petrograd, toward which the German troops were marching. It has been reported within the past few days that the Germans had renewed their march toward Petrograd. Czechoslovak troops have been reported in force along the Volga, about 500 miles east of Moscow.

RECEIVED WITH ENTHUSIASM.

London, Aug. 15.—Reuters correspondent says it learns that the British troops on their way to join the Czechoslovak on the Usuri front were received by the Czechs with the greatest enthusiasm at Nicolai and elsewhere.

AIRPLANES LEAVE EARLY FOR DAYTON

Cincinnati, Aug. 15.—Six airplanes, headed by Brigadier General Lee of the British army, and Major Rhinehardt of the United States army, left here for Dayton, O., shortly after 8:30 a. m. today. Captain Hammond of the British party, likewise departed but headed for Indianapolis.

DRASTIC ACTION ON ACCOUNT OF COAL SHORTAGE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Shortage of by-production coal, essential to steel production, including the smokeless variety essential to the navy, has reached such alarming proportions, it was learned today, that the government may have to curtail so-called lesser essential industries more drastically than contemplated when the fuel need of war industries first made restrictions on consumption necessary.

The fuel administration is now taking, wherever it can be found, every ton of this grade of coal from those industries which may use other grades including steam coal, just as well.

The railroad administration is being urged to authorize track extensions to new fields. The Youngstown, Ohio, Sheet & Tube corporation is ready to develop a by-product coalfield near its plant and is awaiting permission of Secretary McAdoo to build an eight-mile siding necessary to open it and plans are under consideration for government financing of other such projects.

The shortage of coal at steel mills and blast furnaces is so acute, officials of the war industries board said today that steel capacity is being reduced by several hundred thousand tons monthly and six blast furnaces will, in all probability, have to shut down.

ROOSEVELT REPLIES TO SYMPATHY MESSAGE

Paris, Aug. 15.—(Havas)—Colonel Roosevelt's answer to condolences extended by President Poincare on the death of Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt is published by the newspapers.

"My only regret," the colonel wrote, "is that I am unable to fight beside my sons."

FRENCH COST OF LIVING.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Aug. 15.—(Havas Agency)—From the first quarter of 1911 to the second quarter of 1918 the cost of living rose progressively 132 per cent. This is based on thirteen main commodities investigated by Minister of Labor Colliard.

ARMED PEASANTS MARCH ON CAPITAL OF THE SOVIETS

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 15.—The Soviet government has issued a proclamation declaring that the Russian republic is in danger, according to telegrams from Belostok received in Stockholm and quoted by the correspondent of the Times there.

The Petrograd Soviet has removed to Kronstadt owing to the insecurity of the city. Bands of armed peasants are reported marching on Petrograd from surrounding districts. They declare they are starving and that the Red Guards have stolen all their food.

Dissatisfaction with the Soviets is said to prevail everywhere in Russia.

SEAPLANES ATTACK A SUBMARINE OFF ATLANTIC COAST

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Seaplanes and naval patrol boats attacked with depth charges a German submarine which shelled and set fire to the American schooner Dorothy Barrett, New York for Norfolk, yesterday off Cape May, N. J. Navy reports today said one bomb from a seaplane exploded within 75 feet of the bubbles and wake from the U boat which had submerged when the planes and patrols were sighted.

When the planes had completed their attack two patrol boats closed in and let go depth bombs over the spot where bubbles were observed. The result, has not been determined but the submarine did not again appear.

The crew abandoned the schooner as soon as the submarine appeared and opened fire and have been landed safely at Cape May. Dispatches to the department today did not make clear whether the vessel was destroyed. She was bound from New York for Norfolk when attacked and was about 60 miles from the coast.

Mine sweepers have been sent to the scene as there is a possibility that the submarine laid mines in the vicinity as the case when the raiders made their first appearance in American waters last May. This submarine probably is the one which Tuesday evening torpedoed the oil tank Seamer Frederick R. Kellogg, 30 miles south of Ambrose light with the probable loss of seven men of the tanker's crew. The tanker today was reported still aloft with a chance of being salvaged.

EMPEROR CHARLES IN CONSULTATION WITH THE KAISER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Amsterdam, Aug. 15.—Emperor Charles of Austria, is at German main headquarters, according to a telegram to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin from Carl Rosner, its war correspondent.

Emperor William and his advisers have been holding an important conference at headquarters, the correspondent reports, and these deliberations on political and military questions are "reaching their highest point," with the coming of the Austrian emperor and his advisory staff.

TORPEDOED STEAMER IS STILL AFLOAT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 15.—The American tank steamer, Frederick R. Kellogg, torpedoed Tuesday evening by a German submarine, is still afloat 16 miles off Barnegat, N. J., the navy department was advised today, and there is a chance that she may be brought into port.

Seven men of the crew still are missing, but the navy has no confirmation of reports that five men were killed by the explosion of the torpedo.

CALL ISSUED FOR LIMITED SERVICE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today called upon 21 states to furnish a total of 12,000 white draft registrants qualified for limited military service for entrainment, August 30-31. The men called will be sent to three camps—2000 to go to Camp Upton, Yaphank, N. Y.; 4000 to Camp Dodd, Des Moines, Ia., and 5000 to Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C. The quota for Ohio is 650 men to be sent to Camp Greene, Kentucky will send 250 to Camp Greene.

HARDING REAPPOINTED.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 15.—W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala., was designated today by President Wilson to his third successive term as governor of the federal reserve board.

STRUGGLE ALONG NEW BATTLE FRONT FROM QUERY TO THIESCOURT WOOD, IN THE WESTERN FIGHTING ZONE, CAME TO A STANDSTILL TODAY.

BELIEVE WHEN BATTLE IS RENEWED IT WILL BE WITH GREATER MAN POWER ON BOTH SIDES

Two Armies Reported As Gathering Strength for the Resumption of Heavy Fighting, But Allied Troops Continue Dogged Struggle Through the Gas Choked Woods As They Hammer Away at the Lassigny-Noyon Line—Enemy in Thiescourt Position Severely Shaken By Attack of General Humbert's Army.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 15.—4 p. m.—The French have captured all the high ground on the Lassigny massif and are working down the northern and eastern sides, so that a further retirement of the enemy in that sector is probable, according to advices received here this afternoon.

HOSTILITIES AT A STANDSTILL

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the French Army in France, Wednesday, Aug. 14 (Reuter's, 2 p. m.).—Along the new battle front from Query to Thiescourt Wood, the struggle came to a standstill today. In addition to the St. Claude and Ecouvillon farms, we hold ground to the north of Belval village and a Tooting in Plessier des Roye Park. The battle, therefore, has reached a natural conclusion, and the danger of a counter attack from Thiescourt massif has been removed.

It is unknown whether the battle will be renewed, but if it is it will be a new operation, with stronger material and greater man power on both sides. Both sides are gathering strength for a resumption of heavy fighting. That, however, does not prevent the French from hammering away at the Lassigny-Noyon line and doggedly struggling onward through gas choked woods.

General Humbert's men have carried Thiescourt, which barred the road running toward Noyon between Thiescourt Ridge and the Oise and protected the Germans in Ourcamp Forest, east of the river. It is a usual success that serious endangers both Thiescourt Ridge and the Ourcamp salient.

The enemy in the Thiescourt position, already severely shaken by the attacks of General Humbert's left, is reported to be showing signs of giving way.

BRITISH LINE ADVANCES

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 15.—The British line has been advanced slightly east of Raintcourt, in the district northwest of Chaumes, on the Picardy battle front, today's war office statement announces.

Since Aug. 8, when the allied attack in Picardy began, the British and French have taken prisoners to the number of 30,844.

British patrols were active through last night in the district between Albert and Ailette, where the Germans began their retirement yesterday. The patrols have maintained close touch with the enemy in this region. The British made further progress at several points along this front.

The statement reads: "Severe local fighting took place last night to our advantage east of Raintcourt. Our line was advanced slightly in this neighborhood. One of our patrols rushed a hostile post north of Albert, capturing a machine gun."

"Between Albert and Ailette our patrols were active throughout the night and have maintained close touch with the enemy. Further progress was made at a number of points and several prisoners and a few machine guns were taken."

"Hostile raiding parties were repulsed last night southeast of Arras, near Merville."

"The enemy's artillery was active east of Robecq and in the Scherpenberg sector (Flanders)."

"The total number of prisoners captured by the British Fourth Army since the morning of August 8 now is 21,844. In the same period the prisoners taken by the French First Army amount to 8,500, making a total of 30,344 German prisoners captured in the operations of the allied armies on the Montdidier-Albert front."

ENEMY TROOPS HAVE BEGUN A RETIREMENT

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches).
Allied success in Picardy apparently has compelled the Germans to realign their positions between Albert and Arras. Enemy troops have begun a retirement on a five-mile front but complete details of the movement are lacking.

Between the Ancre and the Oise the fighting is still confined to local actions at various points. The British and French have improved their positions slightly north of the Somme, northwest of Roye, south of Lassigny and along the Oise. Enemy troops have shown no disposition to counter-attack elsewhere and have confined their retaliatory efforts to artillery bombardments.

The extent of the German withdrawal north of Albert is not yet clearly defined and its effect upon the situation as a whole is problematical. Field Marshal Haig announces the enemy has left his forward positions at Beaumont Hamel, Serre, Puisieux-Au-Mont and Bucquoy. These are in the Hebuterne sector where the Germans were stopped in their offensive of March 21.

Many vain efforts were made by the Germans to reach the heights around Hebuterne as their positions in this sector were dominated by the British guns. Should the German lines be moved back any great depth to the south to Albert and thence across the Somme would be affected. Likewise the time northward to the Scarpe might have to be readjusted. It is not unlikely the movement here is similar in purpose to the recent withdrawals in the Lys salient and is part of a German plan to get into as strong positions as possible on the entire front from Ypres to Rheims.

North of the Somme Australian troops have improved their positions between Bray and Etichem, reaching the western outskirts of Bray, one of the main bastions of the line south from Albert. East of Parville.

Akron, O., Aug. 15.—Former U. S. Senator Charles Dick won the republican nomination for congress in the 14th district, according to complete unofficial figures received here today. His plurality over James A. R. Webber of Lorain county who ran second is 250, according to these figures. His managers claim that an official count will give him a lead of 1,000. Former State Senator George W. Sieber of Akron ran third and former Congressman S. H. Williams of Lorain fourth.

DICK RETURNS TO OFFICIAL LIFE; WINS BY SMALL PLURALITY

STATE BUYS BONDS.
Columbus, Aug. 15.—The state treasurer today purchased $60,300 worth of Lucas county inter-county highway improvement bonds for the state industrial commission. They were taken at par and accrued interest.

DOES ARMY LIFE HAVE TENDENCY TO INCREASE SWEARING?

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 15.—The question as to whether army life tends to increase or decrease the habit of swearing on the part of soldiers is being discussed by ministers at Camp Sherman. Rev. F. C. Grusenmeyer, Knights of Columbus chaplain, says that probability is not on the increase and that it comes from carelessness or "slips of the tongue." Another clergyman said he had known men in army life who never thought of swearing but since coming to the army had acquired the habit.

The question was raised when Rev. G. W. Attridge, pastor of the Camp Sherman church in section A, said that such expressions as "to hell with the Kaiser" are not very far from the truth. He declared that such expressions were merely forceful expressions.

The 84th division song contest will be held Friday, song leader Jones announced yesterday. There will also be band contest.

4,000,000 MEN

The policy has now adopted this as a policy and it is the policy of the United States that the military program is to be centered in France. The purpose of America is to furnish enough man power to whip the Germans from now on. The only way that Germany can win this thing with her whole strength.

"The America has got to put enough men over there to whip Germany," asked Senator Kirby.

"That is it in a nut shell," General March replied. "It is up to us to win the war and we can win it. How long it will take will depend exactly upon what we do. If we drag along with this thing and put a small force over there we will be playing Germany's game. It is by belief that we can American army of 4,000,000 men in France under one commander-in-chief we can go through the German line wherever we please."

"This law," the general added, "will let us lean on Class One until June 30 of next year. We reached the conclusion that the enlarged program necessary on July 30."

Secretary Baker explained the steps that led up to the change in the military program.

"After the recess of congress," the secretary said, "the study of the situation went on and a few days ago it became clear to us that the 80 division program was perhaps the maximum which we could possibly hope to accomplish and that to accomplish that it would be necessary to change the age limits from the present limits to 18 to 45."

Secretary Baker said he asked the surgeon general for a formal opinion as to what changes he would recommend, to which the surgeon general suggested the ages 18 to 45.

"The bill as it is written meets with my entire approval," declared Secretary Baker, "asked by Senator Johnson of California if he believed the pending bill was essential to carry out the purposes for which the United States entered the war Secretary Baker replied:

"I believe that to be the fact. My own judgment about it originally was that 19 should be the minimum and I came to the 18 minimum only after thorough study of the situation and with some reluctance, but finally believing it to be necessary to secure appropriate number of men."

Senate leaders had telegraphed members to return from vacations so that the agreement for three-day recesses until August 24 might be set aside, and thus clear parliamentary obstacles to taking up the bill immediately upon convening Monday.

Only 43 senators answered to their names when the roll was called, six less than a quorum. There were 22 republicans and 21 democrats.

The senate adjourned until Monday and the plan now is to begin consideration of the bill next Thursday, if possible.

Senator Chamberlain still hopes to pass the measure by Saturday of next week. He said a quorum seemed assured for Monday.

JAP ARMY READY TO AID SLOVAKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Guarded intimations are given in well-informed official quarters here that the Japanese government already has indicated the need for speedy assistance to the Czech-Slovaks in western Siberia, who have been almost cut off from communication with their brethren who constituted the advance guard of the army which has arrived in the neighborhood of Vladivostok.

It is understood the Japanese general staff has planned to strike directly at Lake Baikal, the most important center of action on the Siberian railroad.

To accomplish this while the first expeditionary forces which may be landing at Vladivostok, headed by General Otani, is operating from there a considerable number of Japanese troops already in Manchuria and along the line of the railroad running northward from Dairen, formerly Port Arthur, are in a position to be speedily dispatched to Harbin whence they can be forwarded westward to Lake Baikal, or can be diverted eastward to open up the section of the Siberian railway terminating at Vladivostok.

FRENCH COMMANDER SAYS AMERICANS ARE SPLENDID FIGHTERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the French army in France, Aug. 15.—Deepest admiration for the American troops which have been fighting with the British and French in the Picardy offensive was expressed today by General Humbert, commander of the Third French army, during a talk to war correspondents.

"The Americans fight," he said, "with an ardor that is unsurpassed."

25 SURVIVORS OF TORPEDOED BOAT ARRIVE AT PORT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Boston, Aug. 15.—Twenty five survivors of the British steamer Penstone, sunk by a German submarine off the Massachusetts coast Sunday, landed at Cape Cod ports today and reported that another boat containing members of the crew had been lost. A few of the survivors were badly burned and injured which indicated that the vessel had been attacked before the crew had a chance to escape.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Nantucket, Mass., Aug. 15.—The killing of the engineer and the sounding of four firemen on the British steamer Penstone sent down by a German submarine in New England waters Sunday reported today by nine survivors of the vessel who were brought here by a tug. The tug picked up two officers and seven men and other vessels landed 29 of the crew at Cape Cod points early in the day.

The men were not permitted to discuss the attack on the Penstone until they had been questioned by naval authorities.

INCREASE SHOWN IN FOOD PRICES THE PAST MONTH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Food price figures made public today by the bureau of labor statistics, show further increases in June, the greatest advance being 32 per cent. for potatoes. An average increase of seven per cent in food prices is shown for the year ended June 15, the greatest among 17 articles listed being 35 per cent for round steak. Although the price of flour declined 17 per cent during the year, it had increased two per cent.

During the five-year period ended June 1 last, food prices showed an average increase of 66 per cent.

SHARP PRACTICE

By EVELYN LEE.

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)
A classical victim of the keen wiles of Abner Wise, money lender and real estate shark, had once enunciated the sentiment.

"He is a reincarnation of Nero, an astral survivor of Attila, with a dash of Caligula and a portion of Zamboni of Thanet in his blood."

Money had been the god of the crafty knave all his life and he had become the richest man in Brighton. When the railroad came through the town it was found that, getting an advance tip, he had bought up most of the ground in the vicinity of the new depot. As the town began to grow he got high prices for the lots. Then the ambition grew to purchase the main business square.

Wise schemed and bribed and enjoyed until he had secured every piece of property in the block except two. One was a one-story old frame building occupied by a widow named Mrs. Roberts and her daughter, Mabel. He offered a ridiculously low price for the property. Mrs. Roberts refused to consider it. Then Abner Wise set to work with all his inherent craft to destroy the widow's business.

The other piece of property that Wise craved was a square area of two hundred feet, directly in the center of the block and completely shut in, with no alley or passage way leading to it. This had been purchased by a Mr. Vance, once a resident of the town, when it was supposed that the tract would face the street.

Wise wished to secure it to build a rear addition to a growing department store. He had written to the Vance family to learn that Mr. Vance had died, directing no partition of any of his property until his youngest son, Allison, was of age. For that culmination the wary, wily old money grabber was patiently waiting.

He was not aware of it, but one day, having just attained his majority, Allison Vance arrived at Brighton to look after the piece of property in question. He put up at a hotel and essayed to get a glimpse of the lot with no access to the street. Finally, glancing through the little stationery store he had a view of the open space behind it. He entered the place.

A sweet-faced young girl stood behind the store counter and he could not help but note her beauty and grace. Allison purchased a pencil and a magazine.

"Would you mind allowing me to go through the house to the rear?" he asked. "I am the owner of the property just abutting the store and would like to look at it."

"Why, certainly," replied Mabel Roberts. "Mamma," she called to her mother who came from a rear living room repeating the request of their visitor.

"Why, you must belong to the Vances," spoke Mrs. Roberts.

"I am Allison Vance."

"And I knew your father when he lived here," declared Mrs. Roberts animatedly and Allison was made to feel that he was among friends. For nearly an hour he lingered, listening to the widow's story of her little realty holding, and so near to Mabel that the impression of her modest, cheerful nature attracted him increasingly.

That afternoon a guest at the hotel became engaged in conversation with Allison. The latter chanced to mention that property interests had brought him to Brighton.

"Quite a coincidence," remarked the other. "I am agent for an amusement syndicate who are starting a chain of play houses. We intend to build a theater here and of course it has to be in the principal business square. All the lots in the main square are narrow and the only big one that will do is owned by an old schemer named Wise. He knows I've got to take it and he is squeezing me for about eight times its value."

"I have heard of the gentleman in question," said Allison. "Is a large frontage an absolute essential in your plans?"

"Not at all, so enough land at the rear can be secured to build an eighty-foot auditorium."

"Why, perhaps I can offer something of interest to you," proceeded Allison. "I have quite a bit tract off from the street, and I think I can arrange for a twenty-five-foot shallow front lot in front."

"You can!" exclaimed the syndicate man. "Why, that would be just the thing. It would provide a pretty entrance, and the further the auditorium is from the street the better always, on account of the noise of traffic."

At once Allison revisited Mrs. Roberts and saw Mabel again. The syndicate man cemented a bargain for the two pieces of property at a price that meant a small fortune for the widow.

A few days later Abner Wise hit his nails in fury and snarled like the human hyena that he was, as he read in the local paper of the sale of the two pieces of property he had so coveted.

And a month later, when he read the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mabel Roberts and Mr. Allison Vance, he nearly had a fit.

"A cruel, wicked plot!" he growled out. "What else, combining to cheat me out of a sale?" And in fact, high moral indignation he almost wept at the perfidy and unrighteousness of those whom he had hoped to despoil.

The conservation of wheat is getting to a cereal story.

AIRPLANES TO GIVE AN EXHIBITION AT COLUMBUS FRIDAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Dayton, Aug. 15.—Six airplanes, four American and two British, headed by Major C. K. Rhinehardt, of Hazelhurst field, Mingola, L. I., arrived here today for the exhibition of airplane maneuvers over the city. Captain Hammond, R. F. C. flew to Indianapolis early today from Cincinnati to make arrangements for the funeral of Captain James Fitzmoris, victim of the tragic accident in Cincinnati, yesterday.

Brigadier General Lee, R. F. C., arrived at an early hour from Cincinnati. The machine will fly in a second program later in the day and tomorrow leave for Columbus.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Aug. 15.—On request of the national Board of Fire Underwriters, State Fire Marshal Fleming has changed the date of fire prevention day in Ohio from October 9 to Nov. 2. During the preceding week commencing Oct. 28, 67,000 four minute men will tour the nation making fire prevention speeches.

Washing Eggs is Old Practice.
Grocers receiving eggs they expect to keep on hand any length of time should not wash them, even if they are dirty. The dirt is wholly on the outside, and only affects the appearance of the egg. The shell of an egg contains a gelatinous substance which prevents air and germs from entering the egg. Washing destroys this substance. Many customers will not buy soiled eggs, but it is desirable that the grocer should explain these facts to his patrons. The public has been trained to demand and buy clean eggs. It should be remembered that dirty eggs, while not pleasing to the eye, are often better. According to the department of agriculture, more than 5,000,000 eggs spoil unnecessarily in cold storage every year because they have been washed or have in some way become wet before being sent to market.

Manners in 1667.
How systematically manners were taught to children in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries may be gauged from the fact that the manual by Erasmus of this branch of education, "De Civitate Morum," ran into 180 editions in various languages within a century or so, and was, moreover, the subject of innumerable imitations. From a passage in one of these, "La Civilté Nouvelle," published 1667, it is evident that cleanliness was not regarded as a factor in good breeding. Children were instructed to rub their face and their eyes with a white cloth. This removed dirt without injuring the constitution or the complexion. The practice of washing in water weakens the eyesight, brings on toothache, coughs and colds, and makes the face sallow, and also more susceptible to cold in winter and to the heat of the sun in summer.

SANDUSKY MILLIONAIRE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Sandusky, O., Aug. 15.—J. J. Dauch, millionaire, head of the Hinde & Dauch Paper company of this city, and his chauffeur, Harry Hicks, were killed early today when the auto in which they were speeding towards Cleveland skidded and was overturned into a ditch at a curve, seven miles east of here. Dauch's daughter, Mrs. Sidney Frohman, sustained a broken collarbone, and his wife, Mrs. J. J. Dauch, was badly bruised and sustained internal injuries. J. W. Wellington, president of the Mansfield Engineering company, who also was riding with them, was badly bruised.

The auto was going at the rate of 45 miles an hour, it is declared, when the accident occurred. At the curve the wheels skidded, the machine struck a bad spot on the road and overturned. Rauch and Hicks, who were in the front seat, were crushed under the car, while the other occupants were tossed out.

Dauch was one of the best-known manufacturers in northern Ohio.

PRESIDENT GUEST OF COLONEL HOUSE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Manchester, Mass., Aug. 15.—President and Mrs. Wilson arrived here today for a visit at the summer home of Colonel E. M. House. Their special train made the trip from Washington in approximately 12 hours, arriving here at 3:20 o'clock this morning. Escaping by a few hours some of the hottest weather of the summer, the president found the north shore delightfully cool and clear.

WILL ENJOY COOL WEATHER FEW DAYS
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, August 15.—The president and Mrs. Wilson left Washington quietly last night for Manchester, Mass., to stay over the week-end at the summer home of E. M. House. Only the White House staff and the newspaper correspondents who were asked to keep the secret, knew of the trip in advance.

It was said at the White House that the president purposes to rest a few days on the cool Massachusetts shore. He has many important problems pending which may be discussed with Colonel House, who almost invariably is called into consultation when Mr. Wilson has weighty decisions to make.

ENLISTMENTS INCREASE IN MERCHANT MARINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Proposals to extend the draft-age limits have resulted in increased enlistments in the merchant marine training service, the shipping board announced today. Chairman Hurley said that more than 100 men have been accepted daily as apprentice seamen, firemen and stewards in the last week. He estimated that 3000 men are needed monthly.

CONSIDER PLANS FOR THE TAXING OF WAR PROFITS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Aug. 15.—The house ways and means committee today took up consideration of the treasury plan for a tax on war profits and excess profits as submitted yesterday by Secretary McAdoo in his appearance before the committee. The plan as outlined by Mr. McAdoo, calls for retention of the existing rates on excess profits with the alternative application of an excess profit tax with a maximum rate of 80 per cent.

Though the plan as contemplated by the committee differs from the treasury plan, members of the committee declared today that an agreement would be reached which would be satisfactory to Secretary McAdoo and yet meet with the approval of the treasury.

Further views of the treasury department were to be presented to the committee today by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Leffingwell, and Dr. T. S. Adams, chairman of the excess profits tax advisory board of the treasury.

A NEW DIVERSION.

Toledo, Aug. 15.—Casimir Karmos, 25, was shooting at a bad bug, so the police were told, when the bullet glanced and wounded his room mate, Thomas Garos, in the abdomen. Garos was rushed to a hospital. He refused to make formal complaint against Karmos.

FURTHER RETIREMENT

than a mile would throw it out of balance.

Four weeks ago today Marshal Fock took the initiative on the western side of the Marne salient and a week ago the French and British hit the German lines east and southeast of Amiens. In the four weeks the allies have reclaimed nearly 1,600 square miles of territory, improved their positions to the detriment of the enemy, freed the important railway running east and north from Paris and unofficially have captured 73,000 prisoners and 1,700 guns. The future holds the others.

Many army officers in Washington expect that a new drive shortly will be made against the enemy. Flanders or the area between the Oise and Soissons are believed to be the most likely fields of action.

Along the Vesle the French and Americans are being subjected to bombardments from German airmen as well as from the enemy guns. There has been no infantry action. In Lorraine American patrols have brought back prisoners from the enemy trenches.

Added airmen Tuesday put out of action 43 German machines, 21 of which were destroyed. Attacks on railway stations, airdromes, ammunition dumps and other military targets continue without a let up. American aviators also have bombed railway stations, airdromes, ammunition dumps and other military targets.

It is reported that the soviet troops are retreating from Moscow. The reason for the movement is not disclosed. Premier Lenin and Foreign Minister Troitzky were reported several days ago to have gone to Kronstadt because of unsettled conditions in Moscow.

INDUSTRIAL HARMONY.

The capitalists and the unions that maintain strikes are but a minority of the community. While they quarrel over the division of their spoil, the public is at their mercy and suffers from the lack of the services it needs.

We need the Get Together Spirit. In the old days the employer worked by the side of the employee at the same bench. There were no labor troubles then. Each party knew the difficulties of the other, and was inclined to make allowances and do the fair thing. Today, the employer may be the stockholders scattered all over the country, hiring a manager whose business it is to get dividends without too much regard to welfare of his help.

It is of great assistance where representatives of the employer and employee elements can meet regularly to get acquainted with each other and obtain a clearer idea of the other's point of view. A great many asperities soften under the influences of a good dinner. Every big industry ought to have some kind of a council representing both corporation and employees, where all joint relations could be freely discussed.

When the employer finds how hard a man has to struggle to meet the present cost of living and raise up his family decently, he will be more generous in the matter of wages. When the employee sees the tremendous burden the manager carries, when he sees how many risks the capitalist has to take with his money, what exceptional ability, what energy and ambition it takes to organize a business and make it pay, he is willing to admit that the heads of a successful business are entitled to make a good deal of money.

When we get this mutual understanding between capital and labor, much of our friction will disappear, and all hands will work together more loyally to turn out the largest possible product.

THE IDEALIST.

President Wilson is often referred to in a sneering way as a mere "idealist." Many people who are honest enough in their convictions are willing to admit that he entertains noble purposes, but they claim his ideas are not practical.

It indicates a lack of faith in human nature to hold that high ideals can't be realized. After all, high ideals are only a form of foresight. The man of low vision and low aims fails to look ahead and see things that must be done.

Mr. Wilson from the start of this war has proclaimed high ideals. He has urged our allies to drop all aims of selfish aggrandizement, and to take their stand with us solely on the principles of justice and humanity. His appeals have been heard, and they have united all the people in our country and in the allied countries in support of common aims. As a result the allied cause has been immeasurably strengthened.

Mr. Wilson has called upon our business men to drop hopes of getting rich out of the war, and has pleaded with them to give time, talents, and organizations to the service of the common cause. As the result he has inspired a great body of our finest business men to give Profiteering has been discouraged and reduced to low terms.

Thus the President has become the moral leader of our country and all the allied powers. His name is revered in Europe as the spokesman of the allied cause. He has lifted this war out of the realm of contention, to that of crusade for truth, justice, humanity.

Not merely is his leadership inspiring, but it has been of wonderful practical value in developing the morale of all the allied peoples. We need more idealism in this war rather than less.

THE GERMAN DEFENSIVE.

Indications at this writing are that the German offensive power is broken for good.

But if the German has lost his chance of getting to Paris and driving the English into the Channel, it is a long job to get him back to the Rhine. During the campaign of 1917 he showed marvellous skill in holding back a force superior in numbers.

Gen. Foch's counter offensive of July 18 took him by surprise. He did not dream of it, nor had he prepared any strong defensive works to meet such an onslaught. Next time he may be readier. In 1917 he created vast systems of trenches and barbed wire and machine gun shelters and concrete block houses. Neither the British nor the French could penetrate them save once at Cambrai. Then the quickness of the German counter-attack took back most of the territory that had been gained.

But the German advance of last March and May were won by their marvellous skill in assembling great bodies of troops and a vast organization of munitions behind a part of the line where there was no special preparation for attack. They proved that the trench line can be broken, if a sufficient force can be assembled without the enemy finding it out.

The concealment of our plans and military objectives from the foe is one of the biggest problems of our military leaders have to meet. Every officer and every private has his share to do, in detecting the work of the many spies that Germany has tried to place in our ranks. Great troop movements will have to be made at night with long marches, and concealment by day time. Every man must co-operate to keep the army secrets. He must have his wits with him and use his brains to help keep the army movements dark. In the great game of war, surprise attacks are very high trumps.

From present indications Kaiser Bill and his six sons would better move back a safe distance from the trench line.

It takes an awful lot of print paper in these times for the metropolitan Sunday papers to describe the latest styles of underwear.

It is proving difficult to get worked up over the sufferings of people taxed 10 per cent for meerschaum pipes, smoking jackets, and silk stockings.

While we are all sorry to see the baseball season close up early, yet there is an intense desire to see what those 300 per cent base hitters can do with a hand grenade from the trenches.

The German people are not worried about our bumper crops, as Kaiser Bill has positively informed them that we are now reduced to eating our shoe leather.

Many of the manufacturers who complain of fuel shortage are wasting coal by imperfect combustion, and incidentally smoking up everybody's houses so they have to be repainted constantly.

The people who complain because trains are late, are often the same ones who lug enormous trunks that take a lot of time to move in and out of the baggage cars.

Every bit of food supply you buy from near home releases freight car space to carry food and supplies to the soldiers.

A Boy's Career.

If you, as the father, want your son to be a lawyer, and on top of that, your boy would really like to be a lawyer, that is all well and good. But if you want him to be a lawyer and he wants to be something else—no architect, a musician, or what not, you are doing him an irreparable injury when you insist on his studying law. You are injuring him because you are trying to mold his personality and efforts into a shape which is contrary to nature. That is, you handicap him by making him do something in which he can take no pleasure; and work that affords no pleasure is a trial which the human soul cannot withstand without paying a big penalty. The labor of life, you must remember, is intended not only to provide a man with the means of living, but also to satisfy him, to make him feel contented, to permit him to take pleasure in his hours and his days.—A. A. Brill, in Mother's Magazine.

The epileptic was protesting against his wartime diet. "Remember Elijah," said the good deacon. "He was fed by the ravens." "Yes, I've been pretty well fed up on that kind of talk myself," replied the epileptic.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Huns Run From the Americans.
Mr. and Mrs. George Bourne have received the following letter from their son Harley, now serving with the American army in France:

"Somewhere in France,
"June 19, 1918.

"Dear Mother, Dad and Brother—I will drop you a line to let you know I am all right and in good health, and I hope you are the same. How is everybody over to the house? Tell them to write to me once in a while. Have you received my money yet? I have not been able to see the Y. M. C. A. man since I have been at the front all the time. I am setting in a dugout writing this letter. The Huns are throwing some big shells over now. One hit about 20 yards from my dugout and I thought it was going to come on in, but it held up all right. This war is some game if you like it, but I don't think much of it myself. The marines sure did some hard fighting up here. They rather surprised the Germans. They did not know who was after them, but when they found out you should have seen them run. They sure are afraid morning when they went over the top I went with them, and after the raid there were lots of dead and wounded marines there, but there were more Germans. They captured a lot and got the ground they wanted. They either get what they want or they don't come back. They have got what they have wanted so far. This is sure a great game. We make our own coffee and fry bacon. We don't believe in going hungry. Our battalion commander was killed in the battle, so our old company commander came back. He is some fine fellow and everybody is certainly glad to see him. His father is a general. He knows how to manage his business. He is cool-headed and quick-witted. The lieutenant got wounded the first day and so did our sergeant. We have not seen either one of them since. Well, I will drink some coffee and then finish.

"Later—Well, I drank my coffee and it sure tasted good, since I made it myself. Tell dad I drank some for him to pay up for the shortcake he ate for me. I just wonder how it tasted. I lost all my pictures and yours with the bunch. Won't you please send me one of all of you? How is dad making out with his rabbits? Tell him I'll eat one when I get back. Have they got the fire truck yet? How does Raymond like his job and also the girls. I will send you a flower that was picked in No-Man's Land. I wanted so badly to write you a letter on mother's day, but I was where I couldn't. Oh, but I wanted to see you. Well, I must close, sending my love to all. Your loving son,
"Harley."
"81st Company, 6th M. G. B. U. S. Marines, A. E. F."

From Joe J. Dolan.
Editor of The Advocate.—It is my desire to express through you my sincere thanks and appreciation to the people of Licking county for the handsome medal I received as a citizen of Licking county. I am honored with the privilege of wearing a Licking medal. Licking county's token of appreciation to the boys who, like myself, know that this war cannot be won unless we who claim until after the war and from then on. There is no information at hand concerning the age of this doctor, but it is a good bet that even if the draft was raised to men of 45 it wouldn't catch him.—Kansas City Star.

Our acquaintance with the physicians of Cincinnati leads us to believe that it would be just as reasonable to have located this doctor in Salt Lake City.

Loyalty.
Unless Uncle Sam you'd forever disown Respond to his need,—come across with a loan: 'Twill be a fine gild-edged investment for you. And 'twill indicate also that you are true blue.

—Newark Advocate.
You can't win this war on plain bluster and blow. It takes plenty of courage with oodles of dough. So loosen up fellows and don't ever stop. 'Till you send good old Lacking clear over the top.

—I. G.

Did You Know
That fog is most prevalent along the New England coast in the summer months? On the South Atlantic coasts more foggy weather prevails during the winter months. On the Middle Atlantic coast fog is more evenly distributed, the minimum amounts occurring during the late summer and early fall. On the Pacific coast the distribution of fog is fairly uniform from north to south, the minimum amounts being observed in the spring and the maximum in the fall.

Doomed.
When Kaiser Bill went up the hill To take a look around him, He saw the Yanks were up to pranks That really did astound him. With brand new guns just built for him.

They kept the welkin ringing, And as each shot went to the spot He heard these soldiers singing, "Look out for us, you measley cuss, We're loaded to the hilt. And thru the Rhine we'll chase your swart."

Where they must sink or swim it, True Yankee pride won't step aside. For mortal man you bet we're coming there, Straight to Berlin and set you.

When Kaiser Bill went down the hill His legs were weak and shaky. And then and there he made a prayer In tones that sounded quaver. "Mine Gott, please come and save me from Those Yanks from o'er the water."

But Wilhelm's Gott will aid him not, So he is doomed for slaughter. —I. G.

Editor of The Advocate.—I got the medal which you gave me the order for. It is certainly nice, and I thank you very much for it. There were two other men in our party that did not get them, so I will give you their name and if you will have one made for each of them and send them to me I am sure they will appreciate it greatly.

Their names are: Otto H. Nethers, Newark; Floyd W. Gleason, Johns-town. Syracuse is a real nice town, but it does not look near so good to me as Newark. There are 16,000 men in camp here, to be trained for fire and guard duty. They came from all over the United States, also two from Alaska and two from the Hawaiian Islands. We are a sociable bunch, each one treats the other like a brother.

Will you please send the two medals—send them as soon as possible, for we will be moved from here about September 1.

Wishing you every success in this good work, I am, Very truly yours, Lawrence Offenberger, Company 37, Battalion 10, No. 9107, Syracuse Recruit Camp, Syracuse, N. Y.

Licking (the Only County).
Editor of The Advocate.—I received the medal a few days ago, for which I wish to thank you. As far as I can find out I think that "Old Licking" is the only county in the states that has expressed its feeling of gratitude in such a manner, and think that you deserve some praise. Several of the other boys have asked me to try and get them one, but in each case I had to tell them that they were not from Licking county.

I also think that it was an excellent idea of yours to publish a few of the letters from the boys for by doing so it was able to find several Newark boys on the base, and as you know there is always a good chat when two old friends meet, especially under the existing condition.

Thanking you again for the medal, I remain, yours truly, H. A. Hiatt, Signal School Co. 707, Hampton Roads, Va.

Medal Is Appreciated.
Editor of The Advocate.—I wish to thank you and the people of Licking county for the service medal which I have just received as I am very proud of it. In your letter you requested the address of any Licking county boys who have not received one of the medals. Celebrated the Fourth.
The following letter has been received by J. H. Roberts, Hebron, from his son Earl, who is a bugler with the 324th artillery, somewhere in France:

"Somewhere in France,
"July 2, 1918.

"Dear Father and All—As this is Saturday afternoon, and nothing to do at the present time, I will write you a few lines to let you know that I am well and having a good time. I arrived here all o. k. and had lots of fun getting here, and I would like to tell you about the trip, but I cannot tell. I suppose everybody is well back at home. I hope so, and how Lady getting along in camp. There is some fine scenery over here for us to look at. We have lots of fun trying to talk this French language. We have a pretty good time here the Fourth. We had a few ball games and ban concerts by our regimental band. I suppose there was a lot going on at the lake that day. They are having some nice weather over here so far. I guess they do not have much rain here, for water is a scarce article over here. I guess tobacco is scarce, too, for I have not had a chew since I got off the boat, but I guess they got some at the American base camp or supply houses. Well, you need not worry about me. I will get along all right. Well, I will close for this time, hoping to hear from you soon, for I have not heard from you people since I left camp there in Ohio. Address my mail as follows: Buglar Earl Roberts, Battery C, 324th Regiment, F. A., A. E. F.

Private Swartz's Letter.

Mrs. S. H. Swartz of Jacksonville, has received the following letter from her son, Private Noble B. Swartz, Battery C, 324th F. A. H., A. E. F.:

"Somewhere in France,
"July 11, 1918.

"Dear Mother—Have not anything to do so will answer your letter. I received the one you wrote the 12th of June, and one from Ethel at noon, and the one with the money in it tonight; was on fatigue duty today. We don't have enough work to do anymore for anyone to know what work is outside of drilling, and there is not much to that except exercise. There is not much to write, for I think I wrote a letter last night. It has been raining again today, but it only sprinkles when it does rain. We have all been having a pretty good time here, but there is no kind of amusement except playing ball. I don't think the people over here know what a show is. When you see Smiths tell them I will write to them sometime soon. It is so long between letters I forget who I write to. I would like to get the Advocate awfully well if there is any chance to have it, put in a wrapper and send it. We don't get any news whatever, so you know how we are lost without anything to read. I suppose Smiths changed their mind about buying an automobile. I hope I will get a chance to take a ride with him soon, but some think one way and some another. I don't know if you have got my address right or not. If not, you can get it on the outside of this envelope. I don't suppose you get to see Dorothy anymore since she has got a new job. Will close for this time. Will write again when I can think of more. Goodbye. Lovingly, your son,
"Noble."

Been in Three Air Raids.
The following letter has been received by Miss Bessie Wright 23 W. North street, from her brother, Ray H. Wright, who is stationed somewhere in France, with the 303rd Trench Mortar Battery.

July 19, 1918.
Dear Papa and home:
I arrived here with my outfit, to which I was formally assigned at Camp Dix, N. J. I landed in France the 23rd of June and just reached the Battery today, so you see it has taken quite a while. I have been nearly all over France. I am glad I did not come when the rest did or I would not had the opportunity to have seen so much. I have been from the extreme North to the Southern part of the country twice. I have been in quite a number of the principal cities of France. I spent one night and a day in Paris and it is a beautiful city. There was there this week. I visited Napoleon's tomb, and took in the sights as much as I possibly could in the 24 hours I was there. I believe it is one of the nicest cities that I have ever been in and I have been in practically the best in the states. I would love to have a week or so there.

I haven't been to the front line trenches yet, as I have never been with my company but I have been within 8 miles of it and have been in three air raids. One doesn't have to go to the front for excitement altogether.

The Americans have been doing some good work along the front. It is no pleasant sensation when you know there is a "Jerry" over your head with a ton of bombs to let drop. "Jerry" is the name given to the German airmen. They speak of the Germans as of one person.

When he comes in to a city or village they fire the anti-aircraft guns and blow whistles to give the alarm to the people. I saw a little boy in Paris, a Belgian, who was tortured by the Germans. The wretches ran a knife through his tongue, and his parents were killed. He has been adopted by some of Uncle Sam's boys and is being well taken care of. I had quite a little talk with him, he speaks good English now.

There has been a big battle on all along the front and the boys have been giving them hell. I think we will wind them up before a great while, at least I hope so. I have heard some great tales from the American boys who have returned from the front.

Well, some of your letters came here for me about the 1st of July and they sent them back to the states. I guess they were not expecting to see me any more. I will not give you any address at this time, but will write you in a few days. Hom is mother? I am so anxious to know, and Blanche, I hope is well. I am O. K. Yours, with love,
Ray Wright.

Letter from Charles E. Henry.
The following letter has been received from Sgt. Charles E. Henry of Co. M, 147 U. S. Inf., which landed safely overseas and is somewhere in France. Sgt. Henry is a son of Capt. Geo. M. Henry of 26 Riley street, and has been in the service four years.

July 7, 1918.
Dear Papa and all:
Well being I have a little time will try and write you a few lines. How are you all? I am feeling fine. There is lots of funny things around here and sure would like to tell you about this place but I can't do it because our mail is censored twice before it gets to you. I certainly have some place to write. I am in our pup tent sitting on the ground and writing on my mess pan.

We were on the boat — days. "Over here" it gets dark at 10:30 and daylight at 4:30. All the houses are built of stone, cement and brick and sure look funny, and you ought to see the trains they have "over here." They have a brakeman on every car and they look like a "baby-car."

Well we don't know anything about the money "over here," but it won't take us long to find out for we may want to go to show and get in the wrong place for we can't read their language.

I would like to tell you where we are at but can't. We are somewhere in France.

We get a gold stripe for every six months we are "over here" and here's hoping I won't get very many. Well this is all for this time as I can't think of any more, will close with lots of love, and don't worry and answer soon. Your son,
Sgt. Charles E. Henry, Co. M, 147 U. S. Inf., A. E. F. via New York.

It's one thing to shatter traditions, but lots of people break up house-keeping without doing much damage.

FAKE CALL SENDS AMBULANCES OUT AT AN EARLY HOUR

Two ambulances, and the patrol wagon made a hurry run on a fake call at 2 o'clock this morning. The call was for Steven's crossing and the run was made up Hudson avenue, only to find it had been a false alarm.

It seems that some one, probably not mentally responsible has been telephoning several of these false calls. The call came to Bradley's last night but thinking they recognized a voice that had sent them on an aimless journey once before Mr. Bradley inquired the name of the person talking and when they refused to give it he did not make the run. However two other ambulances and the city patrol wagon responded.

THE COURTS

Files Damaged Suit.

Carl R. McFadden filed a petition against the P. C. & St. L. Railroad Co. against the P. C. & St. L. Railroad Co. in common pleas court yesterday. Plaintiff says that on November 7, 1917, Charles T. Algeo and Marvin L. Spicer, without his knowledge or consent, took his Studebaker car from his premises, and about 2 o'clock the next morning, while they were running the car, it was struck by a passenger train and the car was completely demolished. Plaintiff says that defendants were careless, because the train was operated at a speed of 70 miles per hour, and they failed to sound warning to the approaching car and their watchman was not at his post of duty. Plaintiff says that it was solely on account of the defendants' negligence that the machine was destroyed, and he asks judgment in the sum of $1000.

Carl R. McFadden also filed a petition against E. T. Algeo, administrator of the estate of Chas. T. Algeo, and Marvin Spicer, in common pleas court yesterday. Plaintiff says that Algeo and Spicer took his car without his knowledge and while they were running the car it was struck by a passenger train and the car was destroyed at which time Chas. T. Algeo was killed. Plaintiff also says that a claim for $1000 was presented to E. T. Algeo, for damages to the car, but it was rejected by him. Plaintiff asks judgment in the sum of $1000.

Divorce Petition.

Hazel Shannon filed a petition against Elijah Shannon and Rex McIntosh in common pleas court yesterday. Plaintiff says that she was married to Elijah Shannon in November, 1912, and they have one child—Byron Shannon aged 5 years. She charges Elijah Shannon with extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty. She claims that he has some valuable property, and also that Rex McIntosh owes him $2300. She asks for divorce, and the custody of the child, and that Elijah Shannon be enjoined from disposing of any of his property, and that McIntosh be enjoined from paying the $2300 until further orders of the court.

Injunction without bond was allowed by Judge Fulton.

Marriage Licenses.

Rose Van Winkle, Madison township, farmer; Miss Anna Mae Framp-ton, Fallsburg. Rev. A. B. Cox named to officiate.

Taken to Columbus.

Charles Dunn, of East Main street, was adjudged insane by Probate Judge Hunter this morning. The examining physicians were Drs. McClure and Miller. Dunn was taken to the state hospital this afternoon.

Tribute to Spaniards.

The Spaniards of Andalusia! They were the most charming people I ever met. Calm, gracious, careful people, who never by any accident did today what they could put off till tomorrow. Mañana! That soothing, delightful word summed up their philosophy of life. They were wise enough to grasp the fact that they only lived once, and they adopted a course of action—or, rather, inaction—that was calculated to allow them to live as long as possible. What they really thought of the tourists I know not. But they were kind to them; for the Andalusian is the finest gentleman in the world. It matters not whether he be beggar or don—From "The Shining Town," by Bart Kennedy, in Wide World Magazine.

Most Famous of Thrones.

The peacock throne formed part of the interior decoration of a costly building in Delhi, the ancient capital of the Mogul empire in India. The throne had the figures of two peacocks standing behind it, their tails expanded and the whole so inlaid with sapphires, rubies, emeralds, pearls and other precious stones as to represent real peacock plumage. The throne, valued at several million dollars, was carried off by invading armies and now figures in a palace in Persia.

Plants Travel by Air.

In Porto Rico, where the atmosphere is moist and balmy, air plants often lodge in the most unusual places and produce some weird effects while growing. Frequently they establish themselves on telephone and telegraph wires. The insulation rots in places and the plants take root, grow and thrive.

AUDITORIUM.

"The Tiger Man."

When the history of the vanished frontier, so pregnant of perils and adventures, which confronted the pioneers in their march toward the sunset land in the days of gold, finally is written it will be inevitable that the little Western character, which has been made exercise a powerful influence upon the historian. It is on this that Mr. Hart's portrayal of unique Western types, long since extinct, is as near the real thing as art and history can suggest. Old pioneers who have seen Mr. Hart in his Western pictures, assert that he is the reincarnation of the spirits of the old days of romance which have vanished before the relentless march of civilization. In the film, in spite of the length of time it takes to screen it, I will show it at at prices that will fit it pocket books."

Note what the New York Evening Globe, said of "My Four Years in Germany."

"The screen version of Ambassador Gerard's 'My Four Years in Germany,' had its first public presentation at the Knickerbocker theatre last night. The picture begins with the Zehren incident and ends with Ambassador asking for his papers."

Those who read the book will find that the main incidents of the story of the intrigue and German perfidy shown with historic detail. The chief characters in this great world drama are drawn with truth, and the story is told together with fine touches of the art of picture making. There are shown numerous audiences with the Kaiser, and real German history is seen in the war lord's threat to the ambassador that "After this war Germany will stand for no nonsense from the United States." There is also pictured the Teutonic boast that America won't fight—a boast that has been made childish by the present appearance of hundreds of thousands of American soldiers in France.

Other pictures shown from the book include Germany's treatment of prisoners of war, the effort to bottle up the British fleet, which was frustrated through information furnished by Mr. Gerard; the brutality of the Germans toward the women and children of Belgium in an northern France, and the attitude of the German people toward their government. At no time is it necessary to resort to fiction to bring out the German character and to show the effort of the Kaiser to dominate the world.

Auditorium Notes.

Sunday amusement seekers have a great program coming Sunday at the Auditorium. The big feature of course is "My Four Years in Germany," in which Grace Valentine is seen in Oliver Morosoff's most brilliant dramatic success, "The Undiscovered Woman," which was written by Louis K. Hughes and directed by Wm. Humphrey. A large cast supports this star and a clever photograph is shown in the picture.

Joseph Lawrence was a guest of Henry Gockenbach of Columbus the first of the week.

ALHAMBRA

A cast of well known players surrounds Harold Lockwood in his latest Metro-Alhambra Series picture, "Lend Me Your Name," a large comedy derived from Francis Perry Elliott's popular novel, to be shown at the Alhambra theatre on Friday and Saturday.

The leading feminine role is portrayed by Pauline Curley, who was Mr. Lockwood's leading woman in "The Square Decret" and "The Landlord." Miss Curley is a sixteen year old, golden haired beauty, who has done some exceptional work in her appearances with Mr. Lockwood.

Bessie Epton is cast for the leading character part—a fiery tempered wife—characterized by a very fine finished manner that characterized her work while she was featured in Selig productions. Local film follows with "The Crisis" and "The Landlord."

THE MARKETS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Aug. 15.—(Official) changes in the stock market, war news being subordinated to tighter monetary conditions. Leaders reacted slightly from yesterday's final quotations. U. S. Steel and other industrials as well as active rails denoting moderate pressure. Fractional advances were made by Marine preferred and a few specialties.

Steady decline of U. S. Steel at an extreme, decline of a point was mainly responsible for the further irregularity of the morning. Other industrial leaders reacted slightly from yesterday's final quotations. U. S. Steel and other industrials as well as active rails denoting moderate pressure. Fractional advances were made by Marine preferred and a few specialties.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Notwithstanding that further rains caused the corn market to open today, prices soon scored a material advance. Increasing seriousness of crop damage reports tended to make sellers more cautious. Initial quotations, which varied from the same as yesterday's, ranged as follows: September, 1.00 1/2 to 1.01 1/2; and October, 1.02 1/2 to 1.03 1/2, were followed by a decided upturn all around.

Flour in oats resulted from the advance of corn. After opening 1/4 1/2 higher, with September 68 1/2 to 69 1/2, the market scored slight general gains.

Business in provisions was only of a scattered sort. Price changes were unimportant.

GRANVILLE

Granville, O., August 15.—The Masonic picnic is being held at Cat Run, north of Granville, today. There is a good attendance, many taking advantage of the fine day to visit this picturesque place.

Miss Clara Wright who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Thompson of West Broadway, has received orders to report at once at Red Cross headquarters in New York. Miss Wright, who is a Red Cross nurse expects to leave soon for France. On her way she will stop in Trenton, N. Y., for a farewell visit to her mother, Mrs. Theodore Wright, and her sister, Mrs. Frank Rue. Miss Wright is a young woman of charming personality, with a wide experience as a professional nurse, and has a host of friends who wish her great success in her chosen work.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe Morrow with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Chrysler and family left Wednesday for a two-weeks' holiday at Shell Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. August Odebrecht and son Andie with Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and family enjoyed a family picnic at Cat Run.

Harry Deming and Harry Price have returned from an automobile trip in Indiana.

Granville has been unusually free from sickness this summer. Our young children and babies have been found by examining committees of the Women's Council of National Defense to be in a fine physical condition and in almost every case have measured up to the required normal standard. Let us take all precaution to keep them there. Be careful of all drinking water which is always a menace at this time of the year. Everyone would do well to boil for ten or fifteen minutes all drinking water. Be especially careful of the kind of water you give to children. Do not eat or let children eat over-ripe fruit or vegetables. Keep the babies from getting overheated and over-tired. Keep them cool with a good deal of sleep and quiet, the intense heat of mid-summer is very exhausting to little children and should be avoided as much as possible. Remember an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

NURSES WANTED BY RED CROSS FOR THE ARMY

Surgeon General Gorgas of the United States army, has called upon the Red Cross to enroll for military service at home and abroad, 1000 nurses a week for the ensuing eight weeks.

In order to meet this need we will have to strain ever nerve, to work unceasingly for the duration of the war. Do you realize that there is no local need equal to this need? No call has ever come to nurses that will give the opportunity for experience and the wonderful chance for service which this gives.

We feel sure that many of the graduate nurses not now enrolled, do not realize the great and immediate need. There will be no need to draft nurses when they understand. The traditions of the nursing profession still live and Florence Nightingale is still pointing the way.

The salary of the nurse in the cantonments has been increased from $50 to $60, and for foreign service from $60 to $65. The ruling that bars nurses having brothers in the service, from going abroad has been rescinded. The nurses are being better housed and cared for in every way. Your district has been given its quota of men. Are you willing to stand back of them to the limit? Persons seeking information call Mrs. T. A. Bazler, who is chairman of the enrollment committee.

CHESTER MORGAN BADLY HURT WHEN LAMP EXPLODED

Chester Morgan, aged 10, who returned to his home in Cambridge, O., last Friday, after having spent the summer vacation here with his grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Powell, was badly burned at Cambridge, Tuesday morning.

The little boy who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan of Oakland Boulevard, Cambridge, was playing with an oil lamp when it exploded, throwing the flaming fluid over him. His clothes were almost completely burned from his body, and only the timely arrival of neighbors, who extinguished the flames, saved the boy from probably fatal injuries. He was badly burned about the face and body.

CAN'T ALWAYS SIZE THEM UP

Former Acquaintances One Meets in New York Must Not Be Judged By Their Appearance.

You never can tell who is who when you meet them in the White Light section. The other night a Pittsburgher ran into a former Steel Cityite who was wandering along the big lane. He wasn't so glad to see him, as he feared a "touch," because back home the man never seemed prosperous, neither was he down and out. His appearance hadn't changed since his residence here.

"How long have you been living in New York?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, about three years," replied the former resident.

"Then you know the town pretty well?" was the next query.

The former Pittsburgher admitted that he did and gave the visitor some advice and warning about the big city. He listened. Then he asked: "What are you doing here, Bill?"

"Working for a bank down town," replied the other man.

The Pittsburgher didn't press his chance for details. He thought that Bill had one of those jobs down town where one starves to death amidst the wealth of the nation—die of thirst upon the fountain's brink. "Won't you take lunch with me?" he asked, and Bill said he would be delighted—some time.

The next day the Pittsburgher went to a bank down town to see about a check of a friend of his which had gone astray. "You will have to see the cashier," he was told, and there was the former Steel City man. He was in an office marked "private" on the door and his name in gold on the side of the desk. He was cashier of one of the biggest banks in the world. —New York Sun.

CAN WIN BATTLES AT HOME

Housewife Finds Joy in Thought That She is Helping to Defeat the Hated Boches.

"It's a funny thing," said the Man to his wife the other night. "You used to like cooking, as I remember it. Breaking a new maid in was always a time of great trial and tribulation. But every night I come home to dinner you emerge from the kitchen almost as though you hated to leave the masterpieces you have evolved long enough to greet your hard-working husband properly. What's the reason?"

"Well," said the Wife of her Husband, "it's like this. It's a sort of game. I may not ever see any fighting, but I feel that out there in the kitchen I am helping France, England and, last but not least, our own blessed boys. Every time I make a loaf of rye bread I feel like waving a flag. Every time I make my allowance stretch a little bit I feel as though I had won a battle. And so I have. I've beaten old General Highcostliving. Every time I squeeze a War Savings stamp out of the food allowance I feel that I personally have fired a shot at the Boches."

"Good girl," and the Man patted his Wife gently. "Since I can't go and we have no one to give, the best we can do is to play the game over here as though we loved it."

Dog's Death Led to Suicide. Mrs. Margaret Dugdale, wife of Norman Dugdale, J. P., of Dutton Manor, near Blackburn, was found dead with a bullet wound in her forehead in a field near the grave of her favorite dog, which had been destroyed on account of old age. Depression caused by its loss was suggested at the inquest as the cause of her suicide, says Lloyd's News, London. When found she was grasping a halibut, at her feet was a mallet with which she had discharged the weapon, and a loaded revolver was in a basket near her. She had fixed a mirror to the fence, and a note pinned to her dress gave directions for the disposal of her body. Mr. Dugdale said he thought the dog's death, which his wife had taken greatly to heart, was the cause of the tragedy, and the jury's verdict was that Mrs. Dugdale shot herself while of unsound mind.

Sardine Shortage Expected. Shortage of sardines this spring is expected to result from the severity of the past winter. Storms and great masses of floating ice have destroyed hundreds of sardine weirs, according to Henry S. Culver, United States consul at New Brunswick, who says in a commerce report that even the weirs not wholly destroyed are so badly damaged that it may not be possible to use them this spring.

There will be practically no catch of sardines this spring on the New Brunswick coast. The weirs may not be in condition for use until summer, and the catch for the year will probably be smaller than in any recent years. The past winter is said to have been the most severe the New Brunswick country has seen in 40 years.

Tibet Takes Up War Game. Tibet is engaged in a looting expedition, just as she has been for centuries. She has invaded Szechuan, a border state of China. The only significance this has during the present world war, according to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, is that some thousand years before Solomon was born, Tibet boasted of a high state of civilization, as did her neighbor Szechuan. But ages of warfare have made Tibet the domain of half savage marauders. Tibet boasts the sacred city of Lhasa, the seat of official Buddhism, where equinox, art, religion and high pretensions are mixed in inextricable confusion.

Father Adam had troubles of his own, but at any rate he couldn't blame them on hereditary evils.

War Time Economies

Save Work—Time—Money

The O-Cedar Polish Mop carries war time efficiency into the home in the saving of time, in the saving of work and in the saving of money. To waste any of these is unpatriotic.

First consider the O-Cedar Polish Mop as a saver of work. It saves the work of getting down on the hands and knees to dust, clean and polish the floor. It saves time by dusting, cleaning and polishing all at one and the same time.

O-Cedar Mop

By saving time and work it saves money. In addition the O-Cedar Polish Mop saves money because it will not wear out like brooms do and in many homes it has practically replaced brooms.

Prove it to your own satisfaction: the time—the work—the money the O-Cedar Polish Mop will save you. Prove it at our risk.

Simply deposit the price with your dealer and get a Battleship O-Cedar Mop on trial. He will refund your money if the O-Cedar Polish Mop does not prove its own worth.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

"Shorty," who is located somewhere in France.

Somewhere in France,
July 14th, 1918.

Dear Mother and Sister:

This is Sunday, and I am at leisure to write a few lines to let you know I am all O. K., and feeling fine, and also hope these few lines will find you enjoying the best of health. The climate over here seems to be quite different from ours, as it is very cool and rains quite as good deal, and at night we enjoy our covers very much, as they feel quite comfortable.

Well, mother, this seems to be a very nice country. Of course I couldn't compare it with the old U. S. A. The principle occupation around this section is farming, and the people seem to raise a lot of stuff, and from what I have seen around this part of the country, the people don't seem to suffer from the lack of food. They are very old fashioned, and their customs are quite different from ours. For instance, I will describe just a few of the garments worn by them. You have seen the pictures of the people in Holland with their wooden shoes, well that is the kind worn here to quite an extent by these people, and the rest of their dress is principally all black with the exception of a little white cap, looking to be made out of lace. Say, mother, tell Edith when she answers, to tell me if she answered my letters I wrote at Camp Mills, and also tell me when you write if you have received that money. Well, Edith, it is a pretty hard job to write a letter, as you know everything is censored, so you will have to wait until I come home to tell you all the news I can tell you quite a lot when I get back. Now, Edith, I have told you about all for this time, so I will depend mostly on you to do the writing, as I will be very anxious to receive word how you are all getting along, and also tell me all about folks and everything in general. So, Edith, I will bring my letter to a close hoping to hear from all of you at the very earliest date. With lots of love,
Your Brother,
Lawrence Green.

Arthur List has received the following letter from Trafford B. Paul, who is now a Sergeant in the Intelligence Section, 33rd Division Headquarters, Somewhere in France.

Sunny France, June 29, 1918
Dear Friend Arthur:

Among the first mail to reach me since leaving the States, I received your most welcome letter of June 7th. The American soldier boys "over here" are at all times optimistic and in apparent good humor, but on receipt of mail from back home you should see the smile on their faces broaden into a full moon as they eagerly open the envelope open to see the contents of a letter which they may recognize as coming from a mother, father, sister, brother, sweetheart or dear friend, and I am no exception when it comes to being delighted by the receipt of letters.

Our voyage across the Atlantic was quite uneventful so far as any trouble was concerned, though it might be said to have been full of events if theatrical, musical, concert, motion pictures and other forms of entertainment for the boys on the ship, are considered, as I think they should be, events of more than ordinary importance, for they occurred under such circumstances and at such a time and place that they will be remembered throughout life by thousands of brave young men swiftly bound for foreign shores for the purpose of making the whole world safe for democracy just as quickly as possible.

We were given a treat in the way of a different form of entertainment each night we were on the high seas, all of which were greatly enjoyed by the boys. I would like to tell you the name of the ship, the number of men transported on it, our embarkation and disembarkation points, time consumed on the voyage, etc., but for very good and obvious reasons, that information must remain untold until after the war.

The weather in our sector of France is ideal at present. The days are rather warm, and the nights slightly cool and just right to afford comfortable sleeping. It does not grow dark until 9:30 p.m. and day dawns about 3:45 a.m., which makes long days and short nights.

We are billeted in the homes and barns of the French people and have very clean and comfortable quarters. The buildings are invariably of stone with a sort of stucco finish and red tile roofs, and present a very nice appearance. In practically every instance the residence and barn are together, the residence part being in one section, or half of the building, and the barn in the other.

There are a number of public houses about each town. The women first boil their clothes and then take them to these public wash houses built out along the streets, and it is an odd sight to see them spank the clothes with a paddle and then rinse them in cold water. It doesn't look like a good system to us, but somehow they get their clothes out absolutely clean.

The French farmers, or peasants, as they are frequently called, do not live in scattered farm houses like country people in the States, but live in groups of houses, forming small villages and towns, and drive out and back from their work in the country each morning and evening. This plan has resulted in the small towns being very numerous and one can start out after supper and easily walk through three or four towns and return before bed time. The farmers keep their stock and poultry, excepting where they have a large number of head of cattle which they can turn out on pasture, in their barns adjacent to and joining their place of abode, and everything is mighty handy and convenient I assure you, even though the arrangement does not always furnish the sweetest of odors. While the French people here have lots of chickens (understand me right on that last word) there is a law prohibiting any chickens being killed, and, therefore, chicken dinners are impossible. However, plenty of fresh eggs and good butter are obtainable at all times and it is not uncommon to see a French family sitting down to a meal of eggomelet, fried potatoes, lettuce salad, bread, butter and chocolate or wine, which indicates to me that the food situation in France must be good. Also, our rations are of the best and in good quantities, and we fare very well in the food line.

As I write, sitting in the doorway of our billet, several of my comrades are having big fun with some playful French children nearby, and it is hard to say which seem to be having the most fun—the soldier boys or the children. A great many of these little tots have lost their fathers in the war and the khaki clad warriors from over the sea, with pity, sympathy and a father's instinct in their heart, are treating these poor children as their own fathers might, and at the same time getting a great deal of enjoyment out of it themselves.

The French people are most polite and hospitable to the American soldier in their midst. You have probably heard sometime or other that the moral of the French people was low. At least, I heard statements to that effect before coming to this country. There is no truth in it. The moral of the French people is not low but on the contrary is of very high character, unless other parts of France are unlike the sector in which we are located, and I feel sure that cannot be.

The country in this section is beautiful in every sense of the word. The land is slightly rolling and not a great deal different from certain parts of Ohio. Scattered foliage and fine roads are much in evidence and tend in a large measure to make the landscape very pretty to look upon. The trees are planted in rows or straight lines along each side of the highways and it is a law that for every tree cut or blown down, another must be planted at once as a replacement, thus preserving the timber throughout the land, which is of necessity, due to wood being about the only substance obtainable for fuel.

At first we had considerable difficulty, on going into a store to make a purchase, to make our wants known to the clerk, and at times some comical situations arose, owing to our being unable to speak French and their inability to understand our English. On one occasion I attempted to buy a cake of toilet soap which did not happen to be in sight so that I could point to it, and the clerk got about everything in the store off the shelves before I could get her to understand that what I wanted was something to clean my hands and face with and known in English as "soap," which she finally located in a box behind the counter. Upon leaving that store, I resolved to study the French language with a view of learning enough to at least make my wants known, and now I am taking a lesson of one hour each day with a class of some 50 or 60 other American soldiers. A colored soldier boy on seeing us come out of the class, asked us, "What is it that all learnin' French for you duns can't use that in Berlin?" Sounds logical, doesn't you think? Anyway, we are continuing our French lessons for a time.

Just a few minutes ago, an airplane passed directly over where I am sitting, but they are now a common sight to us and as we see them passing over we are interested only in trying to distinguish from the insignia on the planes, whether it is an American, French or English machine. They frequently fly so high and fast that it is impossible to tell anything about them without the use of glasses.

We are going to have a baseball game here tomorrow, between two teams of men from Headquarters and a large crowd is expected to witness the game. I am in the lineup of one of the teams and anxious to await the order to "play ball."

Great though friendly rivalry is brought out in all athletic contests participated in by the soldiers, and this earnestness and effort to win, fits in well as a part of the training for the greater and immensely more important contest of war now at hand, which we are of help in and bring to an end a little later on.

Was glad to hear that everything at the shops is going along smoothly. Regards to Mr. Cooper and the boys in the office.

Hoping to hear from you again as soon as consistent with the long travel, I remain, Very truly, Paul.

My address—Sergeant Trafford B. Paul, Intelligence Section, 33rd Div. Hdqrs., American Ex. Forces Army P. O. No. 762.

Wounded in Service.
The following letter has been received by Mrs. Peter Welsch, of Pittsburgh, Pa., from her son, Theodore P. Welsch, who has been wounded in active service, while with Battery A, 10th Field Artillery, Welsch formerly lived in this city, and has many friends here at the present time.

Somewhere in France,
July 13, 1918.

My Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to let you know I am well and hope you are all the same.

Mother, I suppose you read about me getting shot in the right arm, but don't worry, I am alright. I got hit right in the muscle. It went clear through my arm, you could feel it on the other side.

I got operated at about 1 o'clock this morning, and they took it out of my arm. It was a piece about as big as your finger nail.

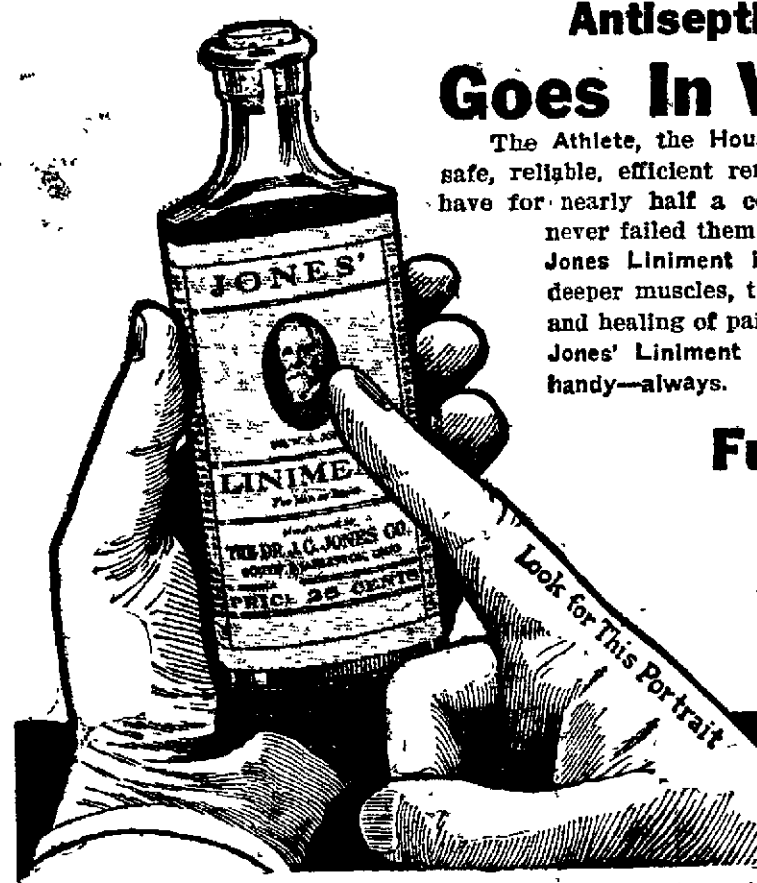

I got shot Monday morning, July 15th, about 7 o'clock. Mother, it surely was a big fight, and the Germans surely lost dearly. They say there were 15,000 Germans killed and we took about 2,000 prisoners. They were crying like babies. They thought we were going to kill them. I suppose Mother you read all about the fight in July 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18th papers. I couple of months, I am on the outskirts of Paris now. We came clear through Paris. It surely is a nice place, but I will not be here long, for they are going to send us to a base hospital.

JONES' LINIMENT

for SORENESS, Swelling, Stiffness, Sprains, Strains, Stings, Bruises, Wounds, Burns, Sore Muscles, Lame Back, Rheumatism, Lumbago, etc.

PAIN'S GREATEST FOE

No liniment that burns, smart or blisters should be used upon the skin of man or beast. Such applications often do more harm than good. Strong, harsh liniments come and go, while the mild but efficacious remedies grow in favor as the years go by, until they become standard. Jones' Liniment is such a remedy—a household necessity for every ache and pain—a healing, soothing, cooling, antiseptic application that will not irritate the most tender skin, yet penetrates to the deepest muscles.

Antiseptic—Healing—Cooling

Goes In Without Rubbing

The Athlete, the Housewife, the Horseman—all who have need for a safe, reliable, efficient remedy for pain, soreness, lameness or stiffness—have for nearly half a century depended upon Jones Liniment. It has never failed them. Because it has superior penetrating properties, Jones Liniment is applied without friction. Its affinity for the deeper muscles, tendons and tissues, is surprising. For the relief and healing of painful, smarting burns and wounds, it has no equal. Jones' Liniment is certainly a splendid remedy. Keep a bottle handy—always.

Tal. I got the piece of iron that the Doctor took out of my arm, and I will bring it home along, if God spares me. Mother, the officer I was with on the front took my address and he said I had to get out of there he was going to get out a letter so let me know if you hear from him, for I surely hope he got out alive, and mother he surely thought a lot of me for what I did.

I suppose he will tell you I did a good thing if you hear from him. When he saw me coming back alive and just shot in the arm he surely was happy. He shook hands with me a dozen times.

Mother I think the war will be over before long, and I will have a lot to tell you. Give every body my love, and kiss the baby for me, and Vincent's little ones. Tell sister Marie to tell my friends that I can't write to them, my arm pains me too much. From your loving son Theodore, with love and kisses.

Sgt. W. O. Davis' Letter.

The following letter has been received by J. F. Davis, Atherton, O., from his son, Sgt. W. O. Davis, who is stationed Somewhere in France, at Field Hospital 332.

Somewhere in France,
June 28, 1918.

Dear Folks:

I have tried to keep you informed of my still being alive and happy but since we have moved so far and so much, some of the cards and letters may not have reached you.

We are in a town now, as most of the fellows have told you before. The houses and barns are one and the same. At the present we occupy the barn.

This is a very pretty country and the farms are very well cultivated. All over France the people cultivate the fields and live in the villages.

Today we saw the farmers bring in loads of hay on wagons with one horse hitched in front of the other. It looks very strange.

They do not have the modern equipment and machinery that we have and they work like Uncle George and Grandpa did years ago. We had a very pleasant trip all the way across. We are getting much better eats here than we had in England and on the boat. Everything is plentiful here, especially the wine. A bottle of wine costs 1 and 2 francs or 20 cents and 40 cents for small and large.

Decker and I bunk together and have a very good place by the light of a small candle.

Have you heard from Anita and Eleanor since I left? I can buy cigars and tobacco here very near as cheap as we could in America. I brought a good supply with me. I could tell you very much about our trip but will wait until I get back and I don't think from what we have heard and saw that it will be as long as I said when I left, that we will be with you again.

The Y. M. C. A. are doing a good work here and in fact we saw them all the way. Do not be afraid to give them what you can. We have not yet been able to see the good work of the Red Cross, but have heard much. The French have a profound hope in the American's ability and from what they have been doing, we are glad to be with our forces.

We had to spend about all the extra cash we had to get any thing worth having on our trip over but got through in good shape and feel well and rested now.

The hills and country of France are very beautiful and we hope to see more of them before many weeks. Send this to Anita. When you write address me:

EVERY WOMAN WHO HEADS A HOME

Ought to look into the markets this August. You will find hundreds of items that you will want in your family in September, October and November, and won't be able to buy at the August prices. In addition to the special Dress Gingham, Bleached Muslins, Wide Sheetings and Special Sheets, you will want such things as Girls' Dresses for School, Middy Waists for School, Summer Dresses for yourself to wear the next two months. You can buy these at very low prices this month. We will call your attention today to splendid Hosiery that will be sold out before September. You'll want them then for fall—and war markets will mean they will cost you more money.

25c For Good Black Hosiery

For ladies and children will be an unknown thing this fall. We have both ladies' and children's school hose now for these prices.

29c AND 35c HOSE

For ladies and children in black, white and colors are another special that come in both the regular and large outsizes for ladies at these prices.

OUR 65c AND 75c HOSE

Come in all shades and colors and sizes. They are the latest thing for summer wear with low shoes. Also fancy clock stockings at this price.

The 39c Ladies' Union Suits

In this department come in neat shell edge trimmings, with lace knee, and sizes as large as 42 and 44. It will pay you to buy them for next summer.

While The 98c Shirt Sale Is On

You ought to secure all the shirts your boys and husband will want for the next year. They are the standard Lion Shirts—beautiful patterns, soft or laundered cuffs, and all sizes. You will save 27c to 50c on every shirt you buy now.

Don't Wait For Saturday

Friday is a better shopping day while this August Sale is on.

W. H. Mazy Company

PLENTY OF MILK

Cows on Pasture Need Grain

Large extra summer profits may easily be obtained from cows on pasture. Two pounds of PURINA COW CHOW FEED on pasture will increase the flow of a good producer at least 6 pounds of milk per day, usually more.

At $2.00 per cwt. the extra milk will bring 12 cents per cow at an extra feed cost of only 7 cents per cow. This means 5 cents extra profit per cow per day or $1.50 a month. On a herd of 20 cows it would mean an extra profit of $30.00 per month. These figures are conservative. Make a test. Order PURINA COW CHOW FEED today and start tomorrow.

OFFICIALS OF FRANKLIN COUNTY PAY VISIT TO CITY

Gay R. Winegarner, clerk of the courts of Franklin county, Hugo N. Schlesinger, first assistant prosecuting attorney of Franklin county and nominated Tuesday by the Democrats as their choice for prosecuting attorney, Walter Mulby and Charles W. Miller, county commissioners of the county, nominated Tuesday on the Democratic ticket as candidates for a second term, were in the city yesterday as the guests of friends, having driven over to the country home of one of the gentlemen which lies near the Licking county line and later driving into this city.

Mr. Schlesinger will be remembered as having delivered a memorial address for the local lodge of Elks six years ago. He is an eloquent orator and his services are in great demand in various war activities conducted by the government. He is of great assistance in the War Savings Stamp campaigns and has been kept busy by the state committee boosting the drives. He is a former resident of Xenia where he was a newspaper correspondent for a number of large daily papers and became intimately acquainted with R. L. Rhodes of this city, then an operator for the Western Union Telegraph company and the two gentlemen organized the famous Xenia Diamond Stars, an amateur baseball club which was undefeated for a whole season and which won for Mr. Rhodes the sobriquet of "Ducky," so named after a well known national ball player. Mr. Schlesinger played at short and became famous for making three putouts unassisted in one inning, receiving offers shortly after from the big league teams but which he turned down to take up the practice of law.

Mr. Winegarner is well acquainted in Newark and considers it one of the best cities in the country. He also is an orator of note and one of the main boosters of the many civic improvement societies of the Capital city and greatly interested in the propagation of fish at Buckeye Lake, being a great angler, and holding the record at the lake for having caught a catfish weighing 32 pounds and a carp weighing 28. It was Mr. Winegarner who a few years ago swam across the lake from the yacht club house to Shell Beach pier and back again without leaving the water.

Commissioners Mulby and Miller paid their respects to local county officials and also inspected several of our improved roads leading out of Newark. They are good roads boosters and have done much for Franklin county along that line during their incumbency of office.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Five hundred and twenty-four people are now members of the Licking County War Savings Society. Membership in this patriotic organization is obtained through the purchase of 200 War Savings stamps costing in August, $838. New members are:

Mrs. E. V. Price Mrs. Grove B. Jones
Mrs. S. E. Price Guy Case
J. S. Detwiler Raymond Tatham

J. M. Lambert of Newton township, who assisted in last week's war savings campaign, today sent in 29 badge-cards totaling a subscription of $1265 for War Savings stamps. Mr. Lambert says that practically everybody he solicited bought stamps and that in the recent war chest drive every person whom he solicited responded with a cash contribution.

Postmaster Whitehead of Alexandria, is doing a land-office business in War Savings stamps these days. He has sold $2000 worth in the past five days and is just getting started.

Chairman H. T. Smith of St. Albans township, who submitted a good report last week, filed a supplemental list of W. S. S. subscriptions today amounting to $1100.

This morning's mail brought additional stamps orders from various parts of the county, and one of the township chairmen submitted a number of good "Limit Club" prospects.

Postmaster Dush of St. Louisville, is sending in some good sized orders for War Savings stamps. The people of Licking county are aware of the fact that the world's best investment is W. S. S. and they are buying stamps.

Licking county's Thousand-Dollar W. S. S. club is the largest in Ohio, with one exception. The way to boost Licking over the top in W. S. S. sales before the end of the year is to increase the Limit Club membership.

The United States treasury department has ruled that nobody may own more than 200 W. S. S. They cost $838 in August, pays 4.27 per cent; are absolutely tax-free; are miniature government bonds, and Uncle Sam will pay all of your money back with interest upon 10 days' notice. That's why the best investment in the world today is W. S. S. Incidentally their purchase helps to win the war because it puts money into the United States treasury with which to whip the Huns.

Democracy is not the reverse of kingship. Nations have abolished kings and substituted anarchy or degradation instead of democracy for them, and nations have retained kings and accepted the spirit of democracy. The problem of democracy is not the problem of getting rid of kings. It is the problem of clothing the whole people with the merits of kingship—The Living King.

Capit's casualty list always includes those who are dead in love.

ALL TIRED OUT

Hundreds More in Newark in the Same Night

Tired all the time. Weary and worn out night and day.

Back aches; head aches. Your kidneys are probably weakened. You should help them at their work.

Let one who knows tell you how. Mrs. J. W. Thompson, 87 S. Second St., Newark, says: "I was so bad with kidney trouble I had to get up out of bed and walk the floor my back pained so severely. I lost my sleep and the next morning I felt worn out. I had dizzy spells, my bladder was affected and rheumatic twinges dated through my feet and hands. I suffered terribly. The joints of my fingers were stiff and twisted out of shape. My kidneys were in a weak and disordered condition, too, and caused me a lot of distress. I felt tired and aching all over until finally I got Doan's Kidney Pills from R. W. Smith's Drug Store. This medicine fixed me up in good shape and of late I have been free from kidney trouble."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy. Get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Thompson had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Grecian Funeral Customs.

There are many different local customs connected with burial in Greece. Almost everywhere a pitcher is broken on the threshold when the funeral leaves the house. In Corfu the house is not swept for three days after the funeral, and when it has once more been swept the broom is burned. Elsewhere all fires and lights are put out, and not relit for a week, so there can be no cooking, and at the funeral feasts the guests bring their own prepared food.
